

Scientific References

1) A Double-blind, Placebo-controlled Study Evaluating the Efficacy of an Oral Supplement in Women with Self-perceived Thinning Hair

<https://pmc.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/articles/PMC3509882/>

2) Clinical Study Shows Positive Results of Nutraceutical Supplement to Promote Hair Growth

<https://www.dermatologytimes.com/view/clinical-study-shows-positive-results-of-nutraceutical-supplement-to-promote-hair-growth>

3) Clinical Efficacy of Popular Oral Hair Growth Supplement Ingredients

<https://www.practiceupdate.com/content/clinical-efficacy-of-popular-oral-hair-growth-supplement-ingredients/111015>

4) Do Vitamins Really Promote Hair Growth? Expert Review Of Vitamins For Hair Growth

<https://wimpoleclinic.com/blog/vitamins-for-hair-growth-the-complete-guide-to-hair-supplements/>

5) Dietary supplement increases anagen hair rate in women with telogen effluvium: results of a double-blind, placebo-controlled trial

<https://www.assospharma.com/pdf/panplus/Trueb2007.pdf>

6) Comparative evaluation between two nutritional supplements in the improvement of telogen effluvium

<https://www.dovepress.com/comparative-evaluation-between-two-nutritional-supplements-in-the-impr-peer-reviewed-fulltext-article-CCID>

7) Safety and Efficacy of Deeply Rooted® Nutraceutical for Hair Growth in Women

https://www.scirp.org/pdf/jcdsa_2020091816175580.pdf